MISSION HEADS MEET

UNITED CHURCH BOARD

Rev. Dr. J. T. Ferguson, former superintendent of Presbyterian missions, and Rev. Thomas Powell, occupying a similar position with the Methodist church in Alberta, were in Blairmore yesterday to confer with the local church board on matters in connection with the proposed new United Church building.

So far as is known, the new building is to be a reality and only some minor changes in the plans are now also likely to be submitted to the congregation in detail at this meeting. The grant from the joint mission board is available and a structure to cost in the neighborhood of sixteen or eighteen thousand dollars will occupy a prominent position in Blairmore, to be completed this fall.

At the board meeting on Wednesday night it was decided to hold the first annual meeting of the Blairmore United Church on Sunday next, immediately following the evening service, at which the final statement of the church as the "Central Union Church" will be considered and a new board will be elected.

The new church proposition will be presented to the congregation at this meeting. All members and adherents are urged to be present.

LIQUOR CASES ADJOURNED

The cases against Mike Polak, Mike Dury and Matt Belgen, charged with having liquor in their possession and for sale, contrary to the provisions of the Alberta Liquor Control Act, came up before Magistrate Gresham at the local police barracks on Saturday last. Mr. M. E. Moscovich, of Lethbridge, represented the three accused and before undertaking to plead, entered five objections, in part as follows:

1. That the information quoted no offense triable in law;
 2. That the presiding magistrate had no jurisdiction to try this case;
 3. That the accused are improperly before the court, having been arrested without warrant;
 4. That anything discovered was done without a search warrant and that the process was illegal;
 5. That the magistrate has no jurisdiction on the grounds of bias.
- Mayor McLeod, J.P., before whom the information was laid, waived jurisdiction to try the case.
- Sgt. Duncan, of the A.P.P., in reply to objections 3 and 4, stated that the collector had been misinformed, that warrants were in possession of the police officers at the time of search and arrest.
- Magistrate Gresham, in reply to the charge that he was biased, stated that it was the first time in his seventeen years on the bench that he had ever been accused of bias.
- Rather than sit on the case in the face of the charges preferred, the magistrate declared an adjournment to 9.30 a.m. on Saturday, July 11th, when some other justice would be on hand to try the case.
- Before Court closed, Mr. Moscovich drew another matter to the attention of the Court. He wanted to bring before the Court the improper practice of justices exacting a fee of $5 for a recognizance, when the Code especially provided for a 50-cent fee.

Some of those who are demanding a new flag for Canada can't even tell what the old one looks like.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

AT FRANK

A double tragedy took place at Frank about noon on Saturday last, when a mentally deranged man named Vinet Motl shot his wife to death, immediately afterwards turning the gun on himself, blowing out his brains. Death of both was practically instantaneous.

Motl's aged mother and a four-year-old child were present and witnessed the affair.

Motl was about fifty years of age. Mrs. Motl, formerly Mrs. Corvey, married him less than a year ago. Of late Motl had shown signs of insanity and only a couple of weeks ago was taken to Lethbridge for examination. It was proposed to remove him to the tragedy he had been heard making threats, but it was not expected he would so act.

Three small children, of Mrs. Motl, ranging from ten years down, survive.

Following an inquest, the remains were laid to rest at Blairmore on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Motl leaves a mother, two brothers and a sister, Mrs. Rusicka. Mrs. Motl is survived by a brother, living in Manitoba.

Supper was served, followed by several hours of dancing.

A number of visiting members were present from Coleman. District Deputy Moroney proceeds to Cowley on Tuesday next, where the officers of Pincher Creek and Cowley lodges will be installed.

MUSICAL TREAT RENDERED

A splendid musical programme was rendered by the Hillcrest Orchestra at the Greenhill hotel on Thursday evening last. This concert was given under the auspices of the local Elks. Seats were arranged on the lawn and a large number of music lovers were present and thoroughly enjoyed the programme. The Hillcrest Orchestra is one of the finest organizations of its kind in this corner of the province. Mr. Upton, of Blairmore, is conductor. Other members include: Mrs. Tonka, piano; Ed. Royle and Luther Goodwin, cornet; Joseph Royle, Joseph Jasbec, Willis Kyle, etc.

Gilbert Miller and Harry Stebbins, violins; John Makin, bass violin. At the conclusion, all repaired to the parlor, where ice cream and cake were served and several other selections were rendered. Several selections on the piano by Mr. Althom, of Hillcrest, added greatly to the programme. A few words of appreciation by Mr. Robert Gray, exalted ruler of the local Elks, were responded to in a fitting manner by Mr. Makin on behalf of the orchestra.

Robert Gray, local district manager for Plunkett & Savage, wholesale, was a business visitor to Calgary over the week end.

MAKING BARBER SHOPS
SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY

Making barber shops safe for the fellow who "shaves downtown" is the aim of additional regulations governing barber shops recently enacted by order-in-council at Edmonton.

Among the new "safety first" regulations are the following:

The hands of the barber must be washed in the presence of the patron before he proceeds to "scrape" or "trim" the customer.

Implement used by the barber—brushes, combs, mugs, etc.—must be thoroughly cleaned after every day's use.

Barbers must use new towels for each patron, also a fresh head-rest either of cloth or paper.

No material for the stepping of bleeding shall be used except in powdered form.

Razors must be kept sterilized. Regulations must be posted in a conspicuous place in every barber shop.

There is nothing in the new regulations controlling the kind and length of stories sometimes perpetrated by the sociable, white-jacketed fraternity. The government probably consider such provisions unnecessary in an age of feminine hair bobbing.

The order-in-council is likewise silent on the sort of literature provided patrons in "lubber" shops of the province. Perhaps this oversight will not prove serious as in most up-to-date shops the Police Gazette has been replaced already by the Ladies' Home Journal or Fashionable Dress or some other magazine edited by chaps who are suspected of carrying powder puffs and lip sticks—Lethbridge Herald.

CRANBROOK CONDUCTOR LOSES IN APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

LONDON, July 6.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The appeal to that privy council in the case of Caven versus Canadian Pacific Railway Company dismissed by the judicial committee of the privy council today. The action arose in Alberta over the alleged wrongful dismissal of the plaintiff by the company.

Their lordships of the judicial committee in their finding state that an investigation into the conduct of Caven, as provided for under the rules as between the C.P.R. and its employees, was duly held and dismissal followed. The course open to appellant was plain, their lordships state, namely, if dissatisfied he could have appealed to the higher officials of the company. He did not take such a course. Nevertheless, he pleaded that he was entitled to bring action against the company for alleged wrongful dismissal.

Their lordships state that if the appellant had successfully attacked the investigation itself, then a judicial investigation on the issue of wrongful dismissal might naturally have followed, but the attack entirely failed, and therefore it has been necessary for their lordships to consider broadly the position of both parties when such investigation was concluded and a decision given. Such decision, they declare, must be respected and honored by both parties.

It would not have been open to the railway company to ignore it or treat it as being worthless. Equally when it had been established that a just cause for dismissal did exist then a court of law must give effect to it. The principle of law thus stated, their lordships point out, is seen to be one of equal obligation on both sides to the dispute.

PROVINCIAL ALLIANCE WILL MAINTAIN TEACHERS' FIGHT

The provincial executive of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance met in the central offices of the Alliance at Edmonton at 2 p.m. on Saturday, July 4th, to hear the report of Mr. J. W. Barnett, general secretary-treasurer, on the Blairmore situation.

Mr. Barnett presented a full report on the whole situation. He then introduced Messrs. Conway and Hoyle, of the Crows' Nest Pass Local executive. Mr. Conway outlined the whole situation and was ably supported by Mr. Hoyle.

The executive listened with great interest to the presentation of the Blairmore case and arrived at the unanimous decision that the whole case of the Alliance must be thrown into the fight for the Blairmore teachers. They endorsed the actions of the Crows' Nest Local and passed unanimously a motion of congratulation for the work done by them on behalf of the Alliance. Their motion mentioned especially the Blairmore sub-local. They decided to call a mass meeting of the Edmonton teachers, those attending summer school, and also the sub-examiners, to acquaint them fully with the Blairmore situation, and also to assist them in support of the Blairmore staff. It is the intention of the executive to maintain the teachers of Blairmore and they consider the action taken by the Blairmore School Board as a lock-out.

The executive regret to have to pursue a line of action which will hurt the Blairmore school, but they feel that the stronger the strike the sooner the whole affair will be straightened out. They have to protect their members and in doing so have to assure themselves that Blairmore School District does not get from the ranks of the association those that are qualified to make a success of the Blairmore school. The executive are convinced that they have a duty to the ratepayers of Blairmore School District, who have been so loyal to the teachers, but they trust that the ratepayers will readily realize that in this situation the first obligation of the Alliance is to its own members.

The provincial executive wishes it to be known that the Alberta Teachers' Alliance stands for efficiency and good will, but it will fight strenuously against any aggregation that from whatever cause attacks unjustly the status of its members.

A 200-ton paper mill, which will cost $4,250,000 and give employment to 600 men annually, and to 1500 for seven months of the year during the lumbering season, will be constructed at Fort Alexander, Manitoba, by the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company in conjunction with the J. D. McArthur interests, of Winnipeg.

While in Fernie the other day, witnessing the baseball games between Fernie and Whitefish, Montana, we observed one of the visiting cars from the state across the line, displaying the following sign from the rear window in the interest of forest fire protection: "This is God's country. Don't burn it up and make it look like hell."

The Hamilton Spectator remarks: "It may be a fact that no sum that could be paid to Rt. Hon. W. S. Fielding would repay him for the services he has rendered, but can't the same thing be said for a lot of our veterans who don't know where the next meal is coming from. This pension business has gone about far enough in Canada."

There will be no more prosecutions in the criminal courts against directors of the defunct Home Bank, nor will the decision of the Ontario appeal court in reversing the convictions of the directors be appealed to a higher court. May be well to confine action now to the small shareholders, and perhaps depositors.

S. Hadfield, manager for Roddy McDonald, of Coleman, has issued a challenge to Jack Reddick, claimant of the middleweight championship of Canada, to fight for that title any time and any place. McDonald is an ex-middleweight champion of Canada, who lost to Eugene Burasau, who in turn lost to Mike McGillivray.

Faithful History

"Now, children," said the teacher, "write down all you have learned about King Alfred, but don't say anything about the burning of the cakes; I want to find out what else you know."

Half an hour later a scholar handed in his effort:

A Canadian Pacific Railway freight train was recently held up near Lemberg, Sask. by a swarm of tent caterpillars which interfered with the functioning of the drive wheels on the greasy rails, where the insects had gathered in millions. All efforts to plow through or remove the swarms were unsuccessful and no progress could be made until half the cars were discharged.

Preparations are practically complete for the 1926 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede. It is anticipated that the stampede this year will be the biggest ever held. It has been extensively advertised in Canada and the United States, and a large number of inquiries have been received from interested parties, who anticipate being present. Entries have been received from all the best known riders and ropers on the continent, and the large number of valuable prizes offered for competition ensures that the spectator will see the best that can be offered in the way of broncho breaking, roping, wild steer riding, etc.

A TALK ON ADVERTISING

One blow of the hammer does not build a house. One smashing advertisement does not build a business. It merely does its share. Each advertisement aims to stimulate the day's trading. And each day's job well done helps to strengthen the foundation of the business for tomorrow and the future. Each advertisement in turn gives strength to the future record.

But to get these benefits, advertising must be kept up as steadily as you expect the business to progress. To weaken in the programme because a few advertisements do not create a reputation equal to that of a store which has been building prestige steadily year after year would be as foolish as to stop work on a house because the first blow of the hammer did not do the whole job. The quitter rarely wins a race, but "Keeping everlastingly at it," in the words of one of the most famous slogans, "brings success."—The Elma Chronicle.

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS ONE?

Two members of the Presbyterian church wandered into an Anglican church. They were handed Prayer Books and took their seats. One of them commenced turning over the pages of his book to see what it contained. Soon a strange look came over his face, and then a kind of horror came, and he turned and said in a very anxious voice: "I say, Mac, let's get out o' this. I've been looking at this 'ere book, and it's no' but 'Collect, Collect, Collect.'"—Coleman Journal.

Two Englishmen, strolling along a Scotch highway, and imbued with the wide-spread fallacy that the Scotch are slow of wit, decided to take a rise out of a countryman they saw coming towards them.

"Did you see anything of a cart-load of monkeys coming down this road?" asked one of the strollers by the way of opening.

"Did ye fa' out?" came back the Scot, quick as a flash.

"Barring accidents, we are in for the greatest wheat crop in the history of Canada," says Andrew Kelly, of the Western Flour Mills. Mr. Kelly thinks the prairie wheat crop this year is off to the best start it ever had.

The first lot of Scottish boys enrolled as farm apprentices for Canada arrived recently on the Canadian Pacific liner "Meiganga." They were brought out under the auspices of the British Immigration and Colonization Association in co-operation with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Canada's progress in the world of letters is illustrated by the fact that there is a Canadian literary section as one of the features of the Canadian pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley. It presents French-Canadian and English-Canadian literature from the earliest dates down to 1924.

Ten conventions, comprising almost 3,000 delegates, will be held in Montreal between now and August 31, according to an announcement by the Montreal Tourist and Convention Bureau. It is hoped to obtain the 1926 Kiwanian Convention for this city which would mean that some 7,000 Kiwanians will visit Montreal next summer.

The Crystal Gardens, the splendid new pleasure resort for the city of Victoria, B.C., will be opened at the end of June and will form one of the unique attractions of that city. It will be both a winter and summer garden and possesses a salt water swimming tank, claimed to be the largest on the continent. Citizens of Victoria are already using the Gardens prior to its official opening.

Screening at the Capitol Theatre, Montreal, of the scenes through which the University of Montreal across-Canada trip and the similar journey of the Teachers' Federation of Canada will pass, attracted a large and appreciative audience. The film was a revelation of the beauty of Canadian cities and scenery. The University of Montreal trip will start from that city July 7 and will return July 28. The trip of the Teachers' Federation will commence July 20 and will conclude August 10.

Frank W. Ashby, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of Australia, a recent visitor at Banff, said he found Canada to have a most delightful climate and "cities which are more modern than our own." Mr. Ashby said the impression in Australia had been that Horseshell Island and Baffin's Bay were linked up municipally with Montreal and Winnipeg, and thought that the best way to correct these geographical misconceptions was to encourage more tourist travel from other parts of the Empire.

That 44 beer now selling in the Province of Ontario had met with approval and was considered quite satisfactory by people of the province was the statement of Premier G. Howard Ferguson prior to his departure recently for England on the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Scotland." Mr. Ferguson will endeavor to interest British and foreign capitalists in the industrial development of Ontario province.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES

Secretary of Commerce Hoover's report on the crude rubber industry has caused a commotion in the press and among motorists in the United States. The report finds that Great Britain controls 95 per cent of the world's production of rubber, and that the United States consumes 73 per cent while producing practically none.

It is asserted that Great Britain is taking advantage of her monopoly to raise prices and that enormous profits are now being made. In 1922, Mr. Hoover states, the British government put in operation in its rubber-producing colonies a sliding scale of export taxes, designed to restrict the production of crude rubber, so that prices would be higher because of the limited output.

The manufacturers of automobile tires and other rubber goods in the United States are at England's mercy, apparently, and they do not seem to like it. They complain that the extra profits from the rubber plantations of the British East Indies will be sufficient to pay Britain's war debt to the United States, and that it will be American automobile owners and other consumers of rubber that will pay it.

As a result of his investigations, Mr. Hoover has come to an interesting conclusion. He prefaces his report as follows:

"The producing industries of the world would be much better off in the long run if combinations in restraint of international trade were abandoned on all sides. That does not mean there shall be an absolute free trade, or that there shall be an abandonment of all tariff duties. But where tariffs assume proportions such as to hinder the flow of goods across frontiers and that exchange of commodities for commodities which is the essence of world trade, then it is time to consider a halt."

For many years the British Empire has been virtually at the mercy of the United States cotton producers. The prices that the British textile industries have been compelled to pay for raw cotton have been such that, a few years ago, an Empire cotton-growing campaign was launched to counteract the American monopoly and bring prices down.

One American journal complains that there is something out of joint when the British government, through its Ambassador, takes exception to the United States tariff laws and at the same time utilizes a graduated export tax on rubber to jack up the price of rubber. But this journal overlooks the fact that the British have been "protesting" for a good many years against the American tariff. Now that the British government has a powerful weapon in his grasp, it may be that her future "protests" will receive more sympathetic attention.—Ex.

All Set For the Calgary Stampede

1. Cowboys in the Parade. 2. "Bucking Sally." 3. Cowboys in the making. 4. The old coach resurrected. 5. Hoot Gibson and Sgt. Kendall, late of the R.C.M.P. 6. The Old Chief. 7. Roy Hutchinson does his stunt. 8. "Coyote" Frank gets dumped. 9. The Covered Wagon.

The Jubilee Historical Pageant and Stampede commemorating the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Mounted Police to Calgary and the birth of the city will be the centre of attraction of the West for all Canada, and commences July 6, leading to July 11. It will furnish the chance of a lifetime for tourists to see something entirely out of the ordinary from the usual trip to the West and the Mountains. Among the attractions there will be Hoot Gibson, the well-known movie cowboy star, who will be making special motion pictures of the celebrations, and who will be supported by fifty of a staff from California. In the Historical Pageant some 18 to 20 floats will be used representing different periods in the history of the West and Calgary's development. The plan for the Pageant involves the representation of twenty episodes which show in colorful detail the history of the West before and after the coming of the white man. There will be the pre-civilization

Indian period, then the coming of the Explorers, Fur Traders and Adventurers of the 18th century, the arrival of the Catholic Fathers, the lawless period of the first settlers, the coming of the mounted Police, the Riel Rebellion, the coming of the railway, the intensive development of the West, the Great War call to arms, and finally Calgary and the West as they are today, the Grandeur of the World.

The high lights of the Stampede will be the individual exhibitions of buck-jumping by the best cowboy riders of the West who will gather from far and near to the celebration. Somewhere around 1,500 horses will be used in the Grand Parade, which it is estimated will be about five miles long. Universal Film Company are making a rousing Western feature out of the show and will aim at producing a Canadian "Covered Wagon" from the spectacle. The Stampede will undoubtedly be the high light of the West and will surely stand as a great record of achievement for many years to come.

EDMONTON EXHIBITION AND STAMPEDE

Automobile races, with their usual thrills and sensations, are once more to be part of the Edmonton Exhibition and Stampede according to an announcement just issued by Manager Black.

All events will be run under the rules and with the sanction of the International Motor Contest Association and entry blanks have been sent to speed pilots all over the land, including the world famous Sig. Haugdahl, who last year set a new Canadian dirt track record on the local course.

Fred Horey, former dirt track champion of the world and present holder of eight world records, has already signed up to drive his Asco winning Miller Special in the events. Horey's appearance on the local course will make his first entry to Canadian events since 1921, when he managed to win the Dominion championships, competing against Johnny Rainey, Swede Anderson and a host of other champions and near champions of the dirt track racing world. Johnny DePalma is also on the list and he will make a try to uphold on the dirt track the reputation his famous brother Ralph now holds on the speedways of the world.

Among the other special merchants who have signed up for the events are Al. Cotey, veteran Chicago pilot and holder of the Robey Indiana speedway record; Oscar Anderson, well known driver to local sportsmen; Emory Collins, Ford pilot, who recently annexed the amateur title of Saskatchewan and then turned professional; Bud Putnam, veteran Flat driver; and Bob Wallace, heavy car speed phenom from Indianapolis.

MINIMUM WAGE ACT AMENDED

EDMONTON, July 7.—New orders have been made by the Alberta Minimum Wage Board under the terms of the act as passed at the last session of the legislature, to provide a minimum wage for various industries, as follows:

Manufacturing not less than $12.50 a week; hotels and restaurants, $16.50 (seven days); laundries and cleaning, $12.50; personal services occupations, $14; electric, $14; shops and stores, $12.50.

Provision is made for wages to apprentices in these various lines ranging from $6 per week up. There is also a rule for the payment of overtime at not less than the minimum wage.

The regulations are to apply in a specified number of places, as follows: Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Blairmore, Gardston, Drumheller, Coleman and Redcliff. August 1st is named as the date on which they become effective.

HERE'S A GOOD ONE!

F. W. Weisger, merchandising master of Seattle, has liked the merchants who love to smuggle up to "Unknown Brands" and "Undeveloped Goods" as the jay-walkers of business.

That's not so bad! Everybody knows what is bound to happen sooner or later to the merchant who listens to the street song: We don't advertise. We give you the money we might spend on advertising.

It is pretty hard in this age of increased common sense to understand how any merchant who is out to win, does not realize that. Advertising which brings customers to his door is planned, placed and paid for in the interest of greater sales for him. There's nothing in Jay-Walking through the Land of the "Seldom Called-for."

The little pit of Better Business is "Turnover" and it always travels through the sunshine arm-in-arm with Newspaper Advertising.—Ron Mulford, Jr.

PRESENTATION TO YOUNG BENEDICT

A very pleasing ceremony took place in the mine rescue car at Blairmore on Tuesday evening of last week, the occasion being a presentation by the members of Greenhill Mine Rescue and First Aid Team to one of their number, G. W. Wheatley ("Curly"), of a beautiful fountain pen and pencil, engraved to commemorate his recent marriage. The presentation was made by the captain of the team, Mr. David Martin, in a neat speech, which was suitably responded to by the recipient. There are still one or two members of the team who cannot pick up courage to take the step that Wheatley has taken, but it is noticeable that since this little affair they are getting a little more pep and it is expected that in the near future more of these affairs will be heard of. One member of the team was heard to remark that he would give two pens to get uncoupled, but of course his name can not be divulged. The members of the team are: D. Martin (captain), F. Gwynell, F. Wheatley (junior), G. W. Wheatley, W. Patterson and J. McAndrew (vice-captain).

Through the courtesy of Mr. L. P. Robert, superintendent, and Mr. Raoul Green, general superintendent, of the West Canadian Collieries, the team is being supplied with all the latest appliances for first aid work through Mr. Ed. Royle, superintendent of Mine Rescue Car No. 1.

DEWAR-McLEAN

The marriage of Donald S. Dewar to Miss Ruth McLean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McLean, was solemnized at Fernie on June 30th.

"Don" was formerly connected with the Bellevue senior hockey team.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harper, of Blairmore, were present at the ceremony and acted as best man and bridesmaid.

The bride and groom left by motor for a honeymoon trip.

FERTILE BOTANICAL FIELD

Dr. Malte, chief botanist of the geological survey of Canada, has been in Pincher Creek the past week collecting specimens for the Victoria Memorial Museum. The doctor made a thorough survey of the forest reserves in the Porcupine Hills and at Kelly's Camp and gathered 1000 different specimens while here. He is highly elated with our district, saying that it is among the most fertile botanical regions he has been in. Dr. Malte has promised to return this fall to make a late survey of our floral specimens. He has with him as assistant, Wade Watson, of the botanical department of Toronto University. While here they were registered at the Arlington hotel, leaving Wednesday night for Banff and Lake Louise.—Pincher Creek Echo.

ANTELOPE THRIVING IN ALBERTA

Antelope, which were threatened with extinction in Canada a few years ago, have been successfully preserved in Nequian National Park. When this preserve was established in 1915 there were only forty-five in the herd, the last survivors of the thousands that once had roamed the prairies. There are now 235 animals in the herd, a gain of 190. How well they breed in captivity is shown by the fact that there was an increase of fifty-five in 1924 alone.

Antelope once were prized trophies and suffered such ravages in numbers that extinction of the species was in sight. A herd finally was discovered in southern Alberta, and the tract of 5000 acres, on which the animals were feeding, was surrounded by a wire fence and all the work was done without disturbing the herd.

"My Greatest Thrill In Sport"

Being an Account of an Adventure Which Overtook Ozark Ripley On the Nipigon.

For many years I have hunted and fished all kinds of big game on the American Continent except polar bear and I have taken most kinds of fresh and salt water game fish. But the greatest thrill I ever experienced during my thirty years' devotion to outdoor sports, came to me this summer in July on the Nipigon River in the rapids just below the Canadian Pacific bridge at Nipigon, Ont.

It all happened late in the evening. The trout at this point are the most famed and largest brook trout in the world. But just at that time they were not striking as usual on account of the exceedingly cold night. However, I decided to go to the river to try out a little split bamboo bait casting rod, 2 1/2 ounces, that I had made for casting very light lures. It would be a revelation to myself and other anglers to take trout in this manner, when fly casting is the vogue.

The water under the Canadian Pacific bridge, and below for a quarter of a mile at least, flows like a millrace. I attached to my line a small weighted feather casting minnow, just to see if the little rod would shoot it. At the first try I shot the lure at least 125 feet across the water toward the west bank and in the opposite edge of fast water.

The very instant that the tiny lure struck the water, the second of the only two large rainbow trout that up to then had ever been taken out of the Nipigon river, leaped and killed me. He was a monster. It seemed an impossible accomplishment ever to land that fish with the little rod and the fine nine-pound test casting line. The thrill that came in that approach to darkness was incredible.

I worked in a bad light nearly an hour, and in danger of falling into that deep, swift reach, trying hard to lead that fish out of the fast water where the current would not aid it into the long upstream swirl of my line. The only thing that helped me in that fight was the generous supply of lined line I had in store on my reel to help perfect the fishing of it.

I worked up and down those rapids in despair and hope, and as the whims of the strong leaping fish directed. Yet the thrill of trying to land that whopper leaping rainbow with that tiny rod was something I had never conceived possible.

"It seemed an impossible accomplishment ever to land that fish."

I began to grow darker. Suddenly on the left bank I saw a big black bear take to the water and swim deliberately toward my fish. Despite that terrible current. Evidently he took it for scripple. Right off, that rainbow sensed his presence and darted for the east bank as fast as I could reel in line, and the bear kept his course direct for him.

The rainbow heading straight for the upstream water, with occasional leaps from it, finally gained the stretch of upstream current, with the bear only a few yards behind him.

That bear did not become apprised of my presence until he made a lunge for the fish, missed it as it leaped out of the water, and then scrambled for the bank to get a better survey of his expected prey. That very moment he got a whiff of the man scent, wheeled and scrambled as fast as he could for the thicket of spruce along the sheer hillside.

And then the thrill of thrills occurred in the darkness as I roughed that spent rainbow, and brought him along the narrow sand bank where, as he was far too large for my landing net, I fell on top of him and held him captive with my hands and knees until his strength was entirely exhausted.—New York World.

The cancellation of the stamp tax by July 1st on cheques and similar instruments for the payment of money up to $5 is at least some measure of relief and the elimination of so annoying a place a stamp upon a cheque or money order for a small amount than for one of more extravagant proportions. The fact that no stamp will be needed on paper transfers of amounts up to $5 is some concession to business and the ordinary citizen who likes to pay his small bills by cheque.—E.E.

Blairmore board of school trustees, in giving reasons for the proposed shift in salaries of the teaching staff, stated for one "that salaries should be reduced in proportion to the reduction in cost of living." John James Allen, aged 89, died at Cowley last week. He came to Canada 64 years ago in the sailing vessel "Caledon," being six weeks on the water. He settled first in Toronto, and later hewed him a home in the wooded land where now stands, Owen Sound. Here he wore woollen blankets, clothing materials and carpets for the settlers. His orchard was the first planted in Owen Sound. From there Mr. Allen went to Wharncliffe, Algoma district, Ontario, where he was a pioneer orchardist. In 1904 he came to Alberta, homesteading near Cowley. For 55 years he tilled the soil of Canada.

He was also a member of the quarterly official board of the United Church, and was ever active in church activities.
